

All the world's a stage: presenting research with an impact

Coach: Dr. Vera Leberecht

One day workshop for female Master and PhD-students, Post-Doc researchers in Theoretical Sciences at Bielefeld University who want to make an impact when presenting their research.

This workshop offers young scientists strategies, techniques, and tips for presenting their research more effectively and successfully on international conference stages.

Workshop

Thursday, April 1st, 2021
10:00 – 17:00
Online

Limited number of participants!
Please register until March 17th.

Contact:
youngwomen@math.uni-bielefeld.de

Topics:

- Giving professional presentations: online and offline
- Logical structuring of complex content
- Clear communication
- Working with constructive peer feedback

Young Women in Theoretical Sciences